Why Should We Choose $CTL

Cointoplist has established great services within 1 year and has become a big brand that provides services whose quality you will never find on the market. The cointoplist token, which will follow a deflationary path, offers its holders great opportunities.

What is the deflationary token model?

If the total supply of circulating tokens continues to decrease to a predetermined amount, we call that token a deflationary token.

- People who have a token will be eligible to participate in events that will be held on the site in the next process.
- They will be in an advantageous position in the NFT collection that will be released in the future process.
- They will receive discounts and surprise gifts on advertising packages that they will receive from our site.
